Recently Trump had the Israeli prime minister Benjamin Netanyahu over to the White House. This was to broker a deal already rejected by the Palestinians for a two-state solution. It would double the size of Palestine, but allow Israel to keep Gaza and the West Bank (which doesn't below to them) and make capital of Palestine East Jerusalem. The royal son-in-law Jared Kushner has been working on this deal for years apparently. Russia, a huge supporter of Netanyahu and Israel, will be supposedly briefed on the deal later on. What is interesting is that the Palestinians really had no say in any of this and weren't invited to the White House. Protests in Israel-Palestine broke out, chanting "death to Israel" and the like, with Israeli soldiers keeping order.

Now, under the UN's own definition and multiple human rights groups, Israel has already committed war crimes, ethnic cleansing and is considered an apartheid state. Unlike many on the dissident right, I have zero sympathy for brown people versus small hat people. Let them fight. However, it is interesting to note that Israel and the United Arab Emirates (UAE) recently brokered a peace deal which Trump was not only instrumental in, but also was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize.

The problem with the two-state or one-state solution is first of all, a Jewish state is an anomaly in history. For the most part, because of the diaspora strategy and extreme in-group preference that Jews have had over their history, they have remained a small, nomad and very often occupied people. Every territory they've ever settled in, they've been driven out of at some point, including most countries in Europe. The common denominator is here is not hatred of Jews, but the way they act. They are parasites who leach the life out of whatever society they inhabit, because, as St. Paul says, the Jews are the enemies of all men. And they say Christianity isn't BASED.

Moreover, the Jewish state has resulted, since its creation by the UN, the British and the American Empire, in non-stop bloodshed not only in that region, but also on behalf of the Jews. All the anti-Jihad, anti-Muslim sentiment has been fueled in ZOG wars that keep Israel's enemies at bay. And the AIPAC lobby and most foreign policy think-tanks are hugely influential in keeping the military industrial complex churning along.

Back to Netanyahu. Trump gave him a symbolic "Key to the White House" which will not endear people to the Israeli state, but only inflame antisemitism. This is a good thing. No one looks at that picture of Trump and Ben and thinks that a hostile foreign ethnic group doesn't run this country. Of course, they do. It's just that its illegal to talk about. Even Kanye is praising Jared's peace dealing abilities, which I assuming is because he doesn't wanna be doing book reports like Nick Cannon.
